

Clontarf to City Centre Project

INFORMATION LEAFLET

The Clontarf to City Centre Project (C2CC Project) is part of the Dublin City Council (DCC) core active travel network, and is funded by the National Transport Authority (NTA).

It will provide high quality 8km of walking and 6km of cycling facilities, 5.4km of bus priority infrastructure, improved greening, public domain and utility upgrades, along with the replacement of 6km of 100 year old watermains. This scheme extends from Clontarf Road (at the junction with Alfie Byrne Road) to Amiens Street (at the junction with Talbot Street).

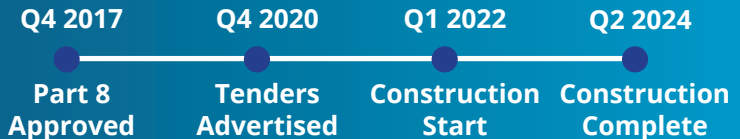

This leaflet provides information on some milestones and the proposed temporary traffic management plans.

TIMELINE

1 A THANK YOU TO THE COMMUNITY

Dublin City Council's C2CC Project Team would like to thank the residents, businesses and commuters along the route for their patience and cooperation. This is facilitating the successful delivery of this construction project. Projects of this scale come with unavoidable temporary disruption. Our focus is to keep impacts to a minimum. Thank you for your continuing cooperation and patience.

2 PROGRESS UPDATE

Works have greatly progressed on the inbound side of Amiens Street between Buckingham Street and Five Lamps junction

Three of the proposed bus stops along the route are complete and have been opened

Paving and landscaping along the route continues

Reconstruction of historic stone wall on North Strand Road

Road re-construction at each of the major junctions along the route continues

Works are greatly progressed on the inbound side through Fairview and the Park

Bespoke designed tree pits are being installed to support new trees on the scheme

Approximately 6km of 100 year old watermains are being replaced throughout the route

New planting, benches and paving installed to form a plaza at the Fairview footbridge

New retaining wall constructed at James Larkin House with areas for future planting
